USPA NEWS - Established in 2013, Sazar Design is a creative firm which is firmly committed to the scientific art of interior design. Its expert team of engineers and designers are constantly striving to further their understanding and knowledge of this immersive and all-encompassing field, so they can help their clients achieve their dreams in creating the perfect environment for the mind, body and soul.

Established in 2013, Sazar Design is a creative firm which is firmly committed to the scientific art of interior design. Its expert team of engineers and designers are constantly striving to further their understanding and knowledge of this immersive and all-encompassing field, so they can help their clients achieve their dreams in creating the perfect environment for the mind, body and soul.

From interiors and exteriors, residential homes to commercial buildings and offices, Sazar Design is dedicated to enhancing the environment of a given area or building to create a healthier, more aesthetically-pleasing space. Its mission is to provide its clients to creative concepts, high-quality design, beauty, and flawless execution.

By making sure that each project is tailored to each individual clients taste, requirement and budget, Sazar Design ultimately creates a bespoke end result which is every bit as unique and individual as their clients. This was why the owners of Beef Stock restaurant in Saudi Arabia knew exactly who to turn to.

They were looking for a restaurant design which was able to combine luxury with an exuberant, American-style atmosphere. After consulting with the clients, Sazar Design set to work and with an innovative use of colour, lighting, furnishings and indoor planting, gave Beef Stock restaurant a unique, fresh, contemporary look which made it the perfect go-to place for relaxed but stylist American dining, exactly as the client wanted.

This made it a clear winner of Luxury Lifestyle Awards in the category of The Best Luxury Commercial Interior Design for the project Beef Stock restaurant in Saudi Arabia.

This project clearly shows the vision of Sazar Design, which is to deliver interior design concepts with a world-class service. It takes pride in the fact that it listens closely to what its clients are looking for with each project, working with them side-by-side from the start of the project to completion, and making sure that every detail is considered and executed to the best of the ability of its expert teams of designers and engineers.

Clients who contact Sazar Design are first given an extensive consultation before deciding whether to move onto the commissioning of the project, as the company believes it is crucial to have the time and space to consider the various ideas and options open to them. Taking the time to debate all the possibilities at the very start of the project is the best way to ensure that the end result is exactly what the client was hoping for "" and hopefully even surpass expectations.

Using a whole range of the very latest in interior design techniques including 3D design technology as well as more intimate methods such as mood boards, plans and detailed drawing, Sazar Design is able to clearly show the myriad of possibilities to each client.

Whether it is changing the mood of a room thanks to lighting, innovative use of colour or using custom-made furniture, Sazar Design's experts are on hand to convey the rich tapestry of design tools including Feng Shui. In large spaces landscaping can transform an environment and Sazar Design will supply a fully-qualified visiting site supervisor who, during the course of the works, will take full control of the interior package for the project.

By guiding and working closely with its clients, Sazar Design is able to create truly unique projects which bring to life exactly what the client had only been able to dream of "" until now.
